

Have you considered becoming a school governor?

Being at the heart of the local community Foxton Primary School would like to encourage you to take up the opportunity of being considered as a school governor.

School governors are people who wish to make a positive contribution to children's education. Anyone who is eligible (listed below), with an interest in children's education can become a school governor. Governors are volunteers who work with the professional staff to ensure children get the best education the school can provide. They have an involvement in all aspects of school life, and carry out their duties by reading reports, asking questions and attending meetings. Schools benefit from having governors who represent all aspects of the local community and this is where you could fit in.

- Can you spare some time?
- Do you enjoy working as part of a team?
- Are you interested in serving the local community?

If the answer is YES then please get in touch.

Being a school governor has rewards. It is good personal development, you get access to training and experience of working in a board situation. In addition you will gain an enormous sense of satisfaction in being part of a team working to improve the educational outcomes of children.

Foxton Primary School is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people and expects all staff and volunteers to share this commitment.
